PECORINO 'AVALOS' CANTINE ILAURI, ABRUZZO, ITALY 2015 13%ABV

A rare white variety native to Les Marches that was almost extinct a decade ago. So called because the ripe bunches of grapes resemble the face of a woolly sheep, or because the local Pecorino sheep nibbled the grapes. Waxy, almond flavours wrapped around a bright, mineral core with pear, apple and lime notes. A wine for the adventurous that will reward in spades.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON 'REGIO' LODI, CALIFORNIA, USA 2012 13.5%ABV

Scotto family cellars are a fifth generation of winemakers that started when Anthony Sr.'s grandfather Dominic emigrated to the U.S. from Ischia, Italy in 1903 and settled in a Brooklyn brownstone not far from the docks where he worked as a ship's caulker. Dominic taught his sons to make wine, which they sold in gallon crocks from his horse-drawn wagon. Dominic opened Scotto Liquors a few years later, a neighbourhood retail shop that is still in business today.

AMARONE DELLA VALPOLICELLA LE TOBELE, VENETO, ITALY 2013 15%ABV

The Amarone style developed as Veneto's winemakers searched for a way to increase the body, complexity and alcohol content of their wines. The grapes used to make Amarone are picked in whole bunches and kept in drying rooms where they stay for anywhere from three weeks to three months. This gives the wine a full and luxurious mouth fill with concentrated cherry fruit.
